THE THINGS YOU HAVE HEARD

Ben Anderson, International Director

In the words of the late missiologist Ralph Winter, “The essential missionary task is to establish a viable indigenous church planting movement that carries the potential to renew whole extended families and transform whole societies.” Mission since the days of Apostle Paul has been about planting churches—worshiping communities which glorify Jesus Christ. Church planting is a unique function of the dispensation of Grace in which we live. One of the speakers at the Tokyo 2010 Mission Leaders Conference correctly stated that there is no church planting in the Great Commission of Matt. 28:19-20. At that time God was reaching out to the world through Israel. Worship was centered in Jerusalem as they waited expectantly for their promised kingdom. Only when the Apostle Paul was raised up with God’s message of Grace for the Gentiles can we see the planting of indigenous churches which are not linked to Israel and its temple.

Things to Come Mission is committed to planting Grace churches. This goal requires evangelism, regular meetings and the training of leaders. Last month while teaching at Indonesia Bible school, seminars and churches a common topic of discussion was church planting in that vast country. After being asked about the most critical component of church planting, I pointed to the need of a knowledgeable leader who is able and willing to shepherd the flock. Without such a person the church cannot form.

Apostle Paul emphasized this concept to Timothy: “The things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable people who will also be qualified to teach others” (2 Tim. 2:2). We can see the truth of Paul’s message moving through four generations: Paul → Timothy → Reliable People → Others. Paul was in prison in Rome when he wrote these words, so he was forced to rely on others to keep teaching the truth. This concept is demonstrated in Acts 14:23: “Paul and Barnabas appointed elders for them in each church and, with prayer and fasting, committed them to the Lord, in whom they had put their trust.” On Crete, Titus was directed by Paul, “Put in order what was left unfinished and appoint elders in every town.”

During the past two months I have surveyed Vietnam and East Timor in preparation for sending a missionary team to each country in June. Through guidance from the Holy Spirit the teams must discover those reliable people who can teach, then mentor them in the truth of God’s Word and ultimately appoint them as elders of local Grace churches. This process must be repeated until a church planting movement is sparked.

Would you like to be part of the Teams going to Vietnam and East Timor? We have already trained the Escobars, Arsinos and others at our missionary training school. If you cannot be one who is sent, then you can participate by sending others through prayer, encouragement, projects and support. Join with me in prayer for the people and missionaries of Vietnam and East Timor.

DEVELOPMENT DIRECTOR'S CHALLENGE

Tim Heath

One of every ten people lives in Southeast Asia (SEA), with a land mass of only 3% of our entire world. SEA is highly populated and has a mixture of at least three main religions (Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism), yet less than 3% are Christian. Because the Philippines was ruled by Spain for 400 years, Catholicism is the main religion in this country. Filipinos already know about Mary and Jesus Christ, so there is a strong base for presenting the gospel to them. This allowed the work of Things to Come Mission to thrive as our missionaries presented salvation by grace through a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, to be of utmost importance in a person's life.

Is the work of evangelism done? Do we need more missionaries? The answers to these two questions are obvious. We are now seeing the opportunity, as never before, to glean missionaries from outside the USA. The Philippines is our oldest and most mature field, where many of our new missionaries come from. But other fields, like Kenya, are sending their leaders to train others in neighboring countries. The task is not done, neither there nor here in the US.

When Samuel was a small boy, God called him to be one of Israel's prophets. When called by God, Abraham, Moses, Isaiah and others simply replied with three little words, "Here I am." This little phrase speaks of our availability for God to do whatever He wants in our lives. It says we are ready to respond to God's voice. It shows we have a desire to follow the Lord. No matter how old we may be, are we ready and desirous to simply tell the Lord, "Here I am"? To reach almost a billion people for Christ, we need individuals who are committed to following the Lord.

WHY PLANT CHURCHES?

From TCM-Philippines Goal Setting Summit

"Why plant more churches? So many churches are closing down, so many churches are nowhere near full, so many churches are struggling to stay afloat - why plant more?"

Here are 12 reasons:

1. The Lord commanded us through Apostle Paul in 2 Corinthians 5:18-21.
2. The early church set the precedent. Apostle Paul initiated the single biggest church planting venture up to that point and returned to plant new churches and strengthen existing ones.
3. History shows us that church planting and revival are closely linked.
4. Research shows church planting is the most effective and efficient means of evangelism.
5. Church planting builds a network that is ready to capture the Harvest.
6. New churches reach different target groups.
7. New churches are fresh, positive and hungry for growth.
8. New churches release more people into effective ministry.
9. Church planting is the most effective method in the task of reaching the world.
10. Church planting stimulates existing churches.
11. New churches are the main key to denominational growth.
12. Our goal is to see 'the whole world filled with His glory.' Church planting is God's key to seeing this come to pass. It is not an option - it is a priority. We have been given the power to destroy the works of darkness and see the glory of God fill our world. This will be done when Christians from all nationalities and walks of life band together with passion burning in their hearts to plant churches for God's glory.

60 YEARS OF GROWTH . . . AND COUNTING

This year TCM-Philippines celebrates its 60th Anniversary. The first TCM missionaries, Vernon & Darlene Anderson and Joe & Pauline Watkins, pioneered the work in 1958. TCM-Philippines has since grown to 512 churches spread across the islands and has partnered with TCM-USA to send out 21 Filipino missionaries currently serving in other countries.

TCM-Philippines endeavors to follow the global ministry concerns of the Apostle Paul as he followed Christ. Its vision is to establish a Grace church in every municipality and city in the Philippines and commits itself to win the lost, edify the saints, plant reproducing Grace churches and produce committed believers in the teaching of Grace whose lives are Christ-like in character.

TCM-Philippines Director, Morito Rebana, guided the Summit

In order to achieve this vision, over 60 top leaders representing the Board of Trustees, Department Heads and Coordinators met at a TCM Summit Goal-Setting Workshop in February. They reviewed the results of IMPACT 2017, the church growth program covering the previous 5-year period from 2013-2017 with goals of planting 115 new churches, adding 7,725 new believers to the membership, and raising 20 million pesos ($385,200) to support the goals and various ministries of the Mission. Goals established at the Summit for the next five years (2018-2023) are:

- PLANT 135 new churches
- ADD 9,275 new members to the membership
- CONDUCT training seminars with emphasis on leadership capabilities of workers
- RAISE five million pesos annually ($96,300) or 25 million pesos in five years ($481,500)

How will this happen? TCM-Philippines has over 700 pastors and Bible women trained and committed to these church planting objectives:

- Inculcate in believers awareness of the importance of preaching outside the immediate influence of the gospel
- Train the faithful to be actively involved in winning souls to the Lord
- Organize core evangelists to congregate believers for worship and spiritual nourishment
- Organize the congregation into a church as a living Body.

A Continuing Education Program in the form of seminar modules keeps these church leaders on the cutting edge of ministry methods, skills and strategies as well as TCM policies, plans and programs. The seminars provide a vital forum for sharing ministry experiences, discussing special issues and problems, and cultivating cooperation among leaders. This in turn refreshes the commitment of these leaders to the ministry goals and intensifies their overall effectiveness and efficiency. The program has two levels: Level I is a modified Bible school curriculum for lay leaders while Level II offers a modified seminary curriculum for pastors and Bible women. Over 300 leaders have actively participated in the Continuing Education Program this year.

Additionally, TCM-Philippines operates 4 residential International Grace Bible Institutes (IGBI) with campuses in Bataan and Cauayan on the north island of Luzon and Ozamis and Tagum on the island of Mindanao in the south. In 2017-18 120 students were enrolled in IGBI with 33 graduates in March. Three field Bible schools accommodate 50 more students in other regions of the country. These Bible schools train men and women for excellence in handling the word of truth rightly divided, to equip and develop them for the propagation of the gospel of the Grace of God and for edification of the members of the Body of Christ.

Pastor Cadelina spearheads the Tribal Ministry

TCM-Philippines practices a comprehensive approach to ministry that includes everything from Discovery Groups for seekers and new believers to special outreaches to women, youth, children and tribal people, regular church meetings for worship and fellowship and national and international Grace conferences. The Hour of Grace radio program broadcasts to roughly 20,000 listeners on 9 stations in Mindanao and can be heard worldwide via Internet.

TCM-Philippines needs you! Although the work is well established and the members give sacrificially, they need your prayers and financial support. A USA donor who gave several thousand dollars a year for TCM-Philippines passed on recently. Who will step up and take his place? The church planting department is asking the Lord to raise up donors who will give $50 a month to support pioneer workers or $100 a month to cover office and travel expenses for the national youth director. You are invited to join TCM-Philippines in person or from afar on April 23-26 to celebrate God's faithfulness over the past 60 years!

This elderly couple has listened to Hour of Grace for 18 years!

IN THE BEGINNING

Darlene Anderson

Buh! Buh! The ship's horn announced our arrival January 1st, 1958, after 22 days at sea from California. Suddenly the Philippines becomes home for our family? And where is this place Ozamiz City, our destination?

Faith prevails. A young pastor was waiting to take Vernon and me and our daughters, Laurel and Hope, to his home. That evening he fixed a big mosquito net over the wood floor. We 4 crawled under. By morning we had huge red welts where we let the net touch hungry mosquitoes. All was so new.

Especially rice, rice, rice 3 times a day! We boarded an inter-island boat for the big south island of Mindanao. Surprise: our accommodation for 3 days was one army cot each, all cots pushed together on the open deck. How do you sleep in case you touch the next passenger on his cot? And we ate rice all the way.

In Ozamiz City Mr. Garcia found us a house to rent, and we met our new helper, Vicki. She knew how to buy food at the market and cook on the kerosene plate. She fed us corned beef, slabs of fried yams...and rice, of course, almost every meal. Vicki taught us how to hand wash all the clothes, even sheets, in a bucket. At first having a 'helper' troubled me, but Vicki fast became a 'sister' because Vernon was gone with Evangelist Poten, hiking mountains and preaching for days. We could only hope to hear he was safe. One day a thief came demanding money till Vicki ran to Mr. Garcia for help. They think all Americanos are rich. Our mailman passed daily. What joy to get a letter which took over 2 months to send and get a reply. One month our treasurer forgot to send us money so we ate bananas for 3 days outside with our pet monkey. The Lord used that for good as it started us looking for a possible Bible school location with money Filipinos shared with us.

Worldwide kids love kids. I had brought one reader, Dick, Jane & Sally. Hope learned to read while I roughly taught Laurel Grade 2 with no books.

Hope and Laurel with a water buffalo

Neighbor kids began peeping in all the windows to watch how Americanos live, eat, etc. We could only respond with smiles. One young kid passed by leading a huge water buffalo with a small rope--so much for US zoos telling how dangerous they are. Everyone called out: Laurel! Hope! when we hiked or rode the bus. When Vicki led us out Saturdays with our big plywood flannel board, kids came running and 'oh'ing at the pictures, stories and songs. Once when Vernon was sick, Poten invited me on his evangelistic trip across rough roads and sea. I joined bailing water so our boat stayed on top till we reached Alicia, hiking knee deep in mud with the girls & Vicki. To teach all those kids The B-I-B-L-E and the Wordless Book...it was beautiful!

The work was growing so fast—12 churches were planted that first year. International Grace Bible Institute was our dream to see more trained workers for the churches. Vernon sent a call back to Milwaukee inviting Joe & Pauline Watkins to come help us begin a Bible school. The Watkins made the sea trip in October and entered the IGBI dream. A plan was made, land bought, lumber ordered for a school at Lupagan village. Men or women made no difference as we sorted and piled up all the lumber dumped by the truck at Lupagan roadside. Watkins had a small cottage and we made the future IGBI building our home, always sleeping under nets, using kerosene lanterns for light and carrying buckets of water from a rickety hand pump. We all ate together at the school using 2-burner kerosene plates. Rice was familiar by then. All visitors were welcome. Whenever we heard, “Maayo!” at the door we opened happily and served them hot evaporated milk (in the Tropics!). Filipinos are notoriously friendly and love togetherness.

We faced our toughest test in April, 1959. Laurel, who always joined the youth & loved to sing, requested Lord, I'm Coming Home at the meeting in front of the school. One week later she transferred to her heavenly home after 3 days of meningitis without good medical care. It was our turn to believe what we preached: resurrection is real. Filipinos were surprised we did not leave their country. No, not for a moment did we entertain that idea. We wanted see the work grow! IGBI opened that June. In July, Pauline Watkins delivered her son...NOT as expected in a hospital, but without running water or electricity, right there in their small bedroom, all of us praying & trying to find help. Male doctors did not deliver babies then, so we raced for a trained midwife. We had tears of joy hearing baby Steve's cry. The Lord leads and teaches all the way!

With the opening of Vietnam and East Timor, TCM will have ministries in all the countries of Southeast Asia except Brunei.

ASIA

A map of Asia is shown with several countries highlighted in different colors. Taiwan is light blue, the Philippines is pink, and the Indonesian archipelago is yellow. East Timor is highlighted in green and marked with a red star. Papua New Guinea is light grey, and Australia is white. Two text boxes with purple borders provide information about Vietnam and East Timor. The background of the top of the page is a dense field of pink flowers.

As a Communist country VIETNAM is officially atheist but most Vietnamese practice folk religions combining elements of Buddhism, Confucianism and Daoism. Jimmy & Joy Escobar are eager to introduce them to salvation by grace through faith in Jesus Christ.

EAST TIMOR or “Timor Leste” as it is called in the local language, was the first country to become a nation in the 21st century. It gained independence from Indonesia on May 20, 2002. Aaron & Noemi Arsino will pioneer TCM’s work in East Timor. Gomer & Nene Indino are praying about joining them.

WITHOUT GOD?

“Without God life makes no sense,” declares Jimmy Escobar. Bold words for someone moving to Communist Vietnam where belief in God is frowned upon!

However, Jimmy speaks from personal experience. Abandoned by his father at age 3, Jimmy set out to earn money for himself at age 5 as a laborer at the local seaport. By high school he was selling drugs and later joined a robbery gang. Despite attempts by Christian neighbors to get him involved in youth fellowship and even attend Bible school, Jimmy’s heart was frustrated and he felt hopeless, desperate and wanted to die. The pastor of a gospel crusade reached out to him, and though Jimmy joined the crusade and returned to Bible school, it wasn’t until his internship that Jimmy realized he wasn’t saved. Going before the Lord, he put his trust and confidence in the work of Jesus Christ at the cross and received salvation by faith. “God saved me for a purpose,” Jimmy says, “and His purpose for me is to be in the ministry for the furtherance of the gospel because God desires all men to be saved.”

As Pastor of Dumaguete Grace Gospel Church in southern Philippines for the past 10 years, Jimmy has taken responsibility for nurturing the congregation spiritually and training them to be involved in ministry. His wife, Joy, coordinates the activities of all the church departments and teaches Sunday school. Joy holds a Master’s degree in Nursing and is an instructor of Nursing at the prestigious Silliman University. When asked about giving up this position, Joy responded, “I definitely believe I am called to the mission field. One reason I took up nursing is to become a missionary nurse.”

Joshua, Joy, Jimmy and Jaaziah Escobar

Jimmy and Joy completed the 2-month GTCM mission training last year and are preparing for their move to Vietnam. Their 18-year old daughter and 16-year old son will stay in the Philippines to continue their education and hope to visit their parents during vacations.

While Jimmy was on a survey trip to Vietnam in February with TCM International Director Ben Anderson and TCM-Philippines Mission Director Gerson Bermejo, Joy posted this message to him: “People may never understand you for choosing this path. It may be the less traveled one and even much ignored by many. Nevertheless, well applauded by God. I thank God for you and for committing your life for this cause. May God be glorified as you dedicate your life for Him. We love you! Keep preaching, keep reaching to the regions beyond.”

PUTTING FAITH TO THE TEST

Are you a coffee drinker? Love chocolate? Perhaps a cinnamon-sprinkled cappuccino? If so, follow the Arsinos as they pioneer a brand new TCM work in East Timor where coffee, cocoa and cinnamon are grown.

Aaron and Noemi Arsino are eager to put their church ministry experience and GTCM training to work on the mission field. In the Philippines, the Arsinos planted and established a Grace church in Bohol, then spent the last 11 years pastoring Grace Gospel Church of Christ in Surigao City.

The Arsinos have learned how to live by faith in total dependence on the Lord. A month after the birth of their first child, they left him in his grandparents' care to pioneer the work in Bohol. "We got there empty-handed, no more money, not even a single penny," Noemi says. "But God answered our prayer and provided a family willing to let us stay in their extra room until we could find a rental room. When we got a room, we were still struggling for our daily needs. Our monthly support was not enough since we were sending some of it for our son's basic needs. We often ate twice a day and only rice or porridge. Every day we lived by faith, asking God to give us more strength and endurance and also patience to finish the course that we started. Finally, by God's sufficient grace, we were able to gather new converts and establish a regular Sunday service. God blessed our work there, and until today, God is really faithful to His promise that 'He will never leave us nor forsake us.'"

God uniquely prepared the Arsinos for outreach among predominantly Catholic Timorese people, most of whom live in extreme poverty. Noemi grew up in a devout Catholic home until her grandmother's friend shared the gospel of Grace with them. As the 6th of 9 children, Aaron went to work at age 10 selling hot bread, iced juice and duck eggs on the street to supplement his family's income. Exposed to the darker side of life, Aaron strayed into a riotous life of drunkenness, smoking, gambling and street fights. The Lord convicted him through a message on the Grace of God, and he decided to attend IGBI to correct his life and follow the footsteps of his parents, the first couple to graduate from what is now IGBI-Tagum. "I could not imagine how good is the Lord God who has called me and counted me worthy for the work in which He has put me in the ministry," Aaron testifies. "Now I live for the purpose of God in which He will use me to preach the gospel not only in the Philippines but also to the regions beyond."

Aaron is a graduate of IGBI and holds certificates in computer science, English and teaching. Noemi has a Bachelor's degree in Physical Therapy. They have 4 children: son Jehoiachin, daughter Jirah, and twin babies Elizabeth and Emmanuel. Moving to East Timor is their next big step of faith!

THE PATH OF OBEDIENCE

Janae Brown

At age thirteen I came to a realization that I didn't quite know who Jesus was. A close friend asked me two simple yet profound questions: "Do you know who Jesus is? Have you ever read the Bible?" That started me on a journey to discover the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, which led to many more questions. All the answers were in a Book I never touched until my seventh grade year. During lunch breaks, my friend let me read God's Word and shared many Bible stories with me. I learned that salvation is by grace through faith, heaven and hell are real, and God loves me so much more than I could ever imagine. I remember well that cold December night of 2011 when my friend led me in prayer to accept Christ into my life. Indeed, that prayer was the most beautiful beginning of allowing Christ to rightfully sit on the throne of my life.

After a few curve balls thrown to deter me from the path God had for me, I realized the beauty of trials doesn't lie solely in the outcome, but in gritty perseverance and immense faith in God which enable a heart to overcome any adversity, whether it's loss of a loved one, being cheated on several times, or having my father give up on our family. To most kids my age, such experiences would send them spiraling into a downfall; however, each time my heart broke, I found myself drawing closer to the Lord than ever before.

I didn't want what the world had to offer; I just wanted to chase my Father deeper and experience His unconditional love. With God, all things are possible, even a high school mission trip to Honduras and traveling at age eighteen to three incredibly unique and diverse Asian countries in just two weeks. God was molding my courageous heart for mission, opening my eyes to new, vibrant cultures and my mind to different beliefs and languages. I knew I was 100% called to the mission field once I came back from my Southeast Asia trip. Trusting in God brought me to study, learn, and teach in the Philippines for two years; an opportunity most girls would easily say no to.

There are two paths in life, one of obedience and the other, disobedience. I knew I was aligned with God's will when I started saying yes to God and watched how He perfectly and effortlessly guided my path exactly to where I am today.

Editor's note: Janae has not yet been assigned to a field, but her heart is to work among Chinese people.

HEARTS FOR THE GOSPEL

Joel & Leah Sanders

Joel was raised in a Christian family in Atlanta, GA, and knew that one day God would lead him into ministry. After going on a few short term mission trips, Joel realized God was leading him into foreign missions. In addition to teaching and preaching Joel has a strong love for music and singing. He desires to use these abilities to reach individuals with the wonderful message of love and grace shown by our Savior, Jesus Christ.

Leah was also raised in a Christian home and has always had a heart for serving. She worked at various camps and ministries, and at age 17 felt God call her to go to China for a short-term ministry with her sister. After three months in China she fell in love with sharing the gospel with others who have never heard the Grace of God before.

Joel and Leah met while working at Chick-fil-A. After marrying, they planned to go to the mission field sometime in the future. In the meantime they moved from Georgia to Florida to work at a ranch for troubled boys. Their children, Enoch and Naomi, were born during their 2 years in Florida.

In May 2017 the Sanders were accepted as missionary candidates with TCM. They moved to the TCM mission apartment in Indianapolis so Joel could gain pastoral experience at Grace Church, Indianapolis and Grace Gospel Church, Linton, IN while finishing a Certificate in Dispensational Studies from Berean Bible Institute.

The Sanders have been assigned to work alongside the Kilgos in Southeast Asia, assisting with the existing church in Penang and expanding the work to other areas. In preparation for this specific ministry, they will spend May experiencing the Kilgos' work firsthand, then networking with other TCM leaders at the Southeast Asia Grace Conference in Thailand. June and July will be spent in intensive mission training at Grace Theological Center for Mission in the Philippines, after which they return to USA and begin deputation. Traveling from place to place with young children and having no place to call home for the coming year will be difficult for the Sanders but they are up for the challenge.

"It is tempting at times to live the 'American Dream', to settle down in a house near family and friends," the Sanders wrote in their first prayer letter. "That is not what we are called to do, nor would we be content doing so. The burden for those who do not readily have access to Jesus Christ, like Americans do, is ever growing in our hearts. God has called us to share the gospel with those who have never heard His good news, and we are honored to do so!"

FOLLOWING ON

TCM-CAMBODIA held their 2nd annual conference in this newly constructed and dedicated church building in Cheutil Village. The Mahilums' ministry there continues with youth and children, and is spreading to other villages. Meanwhile the City Center church in Phnom Penh is active with Sunday services, weekday Bible studies and fitness training outreach. A satellite house church on the edge of the city is pastored by Rathy Chheng, trained by TCM missionaries.

Genesis & Verna Mara returned to Thailand in time to celebrate the 4th Anniversary of Grace Church, Chiang Mai. Maraats and Killions are preparing for the 4th Southeast Asia Grace Conference to be held in Chiang Mai in May. Asia Adventure tour members, will attend the Conference along with TCM missionaries and national delegates from Southeast Asia and Africa.

Things to Come Mission prepares people for Jesus Christ's return through the methods of the Apostle Paul by sending missionaries to evangelize, plant churches and train leaders worldwide. Our financial support comes from free will gifts of churches and individuals. Things to Come Mission will disburse gifts as they are designated. When a project is complete, TCM will disburse the gifts in a manner consistent with its mission statement and purpose. As a 501(c)3 tax exempt organization, TCM issues tax-deductible receipts for all donations.

HOW CAN I HELP?

LANGUAGE STUDY

God so loved the world (English)

Đức Chúa Trời yêu thương thế gian (Vietnamese)

Deus amou tanto o mundo (Portuguese)

Tan ne'e, Maromak hadomi mundu (Tetun/East Timorese)

神爱世人·甚至赐下他的独生子·好让所有信他的人不至于灭亡·反得永恒的生命 (Chinese)

Salvation is a matter of the heart, so missionaries must learn a commonly understood language in order to share the gospel at a heart level with local people. As TCM opens in Vietnam and East Timor, our personnel must learn Vietnamese and Tetun (East Timorese), respectively. Those seeking to reach Chinese populations in Southeast Asia will benefit from learning a Chinese language. A donation of $500 will help defray the cost of a beginner year of language study for one new TCM missionary.

SUPPORT A TCM TEAM

TCM “Team Missionaries” are qualified personnel who come from countries where TCM has mature ministries. Team Missionaries are typically sent to nearby countries where the culture is not vastly different from their own. Team Missionaries raise a percentage of their support from their home countries and TCM provides the remainder through USA donations. Since Team Missionaries do not typically visit USA to raise support, TCM seeks to raise roughly $500 per month per adult and an additional $100 per month per child. Team Missionaries are currently assigned to Myanmar, Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam and East Timor. Donations made to the Team in a particular country and are divided among the Team Missionaries serving there. We encourage you and/or your church or small group to choose a TCM Team to follow through social media or email. Pray for your Team and support them financially. One-time gifts and regular donations are welcome.

DESIGNATE DONATIONS: (COUNTRY) TEAM

MISSION VEHICLE

Missionary travel may still look like this in some areas. However, TCM missionaries need reliable vehicles to use when traveling USA highways to share about their ministries. The van TCM had is no longer functional. A donation of an economical used mini-van or small SUV with low mileage would be welcome! TCM can issue a tax-deductible receipt for the market value of a donated vehicle. Alternatively, donations can be made toward purchasing a used vehicle.
